Culture Pass or Cultural experiences outside of Global Launch

ASU allows you to experience culture at little or no cost. One great way to get free access to some of the most popular destinations is with a Culture Pass (more details below).

Additionally, you may have the opportunity to attend a sporting event or take a weekend day trip with your host family or other friends to experience culture outside of Global Launch’s scheduled activities.

Take advantage of these extra opportunities – they may be some of your most memorable!

Required Attendance Two Events/Visits

How the Culture Pass works: Culture Passes are available at the ASU library check-out desk. The passes are checked out like any other material to ASU students, faculty and staff. Each pass grants admission for two people to the selected institution. There are a limited number of passes for each organization. Passes are available on a first-come, first-served basis, and each individual may only have one pass checked out at a time. Passes cannot be reserved or renewed and are valid for seven days. Passes do not need to be returned and may only be used once during the 7-day period.

Culture Passes are valid for admission to the following participating institutions:

- Arcosanti-Cordes Junction
- Arizona Historical Society Museum at Papago Park
- Arizona Science Center
- Cave Creek Museum
- Challenger Space Center
- Deer Valley Rock Art Center
- Desert Botanical Garden
- Desert Caballeros Western Museum
- Halle-Heart Children's Museum
- Heard Museum
- Phoenix Art Museum
- Pueblo Grande Museum
- Rossen House Museum
- Scottsdale Museum of Contemporary Art
- Superstition Mountain Museum
